He also spent time cutting logs with a crosscut saw in the Prince George area of BC with his brother Bill and Allan Black. In July of 1957 Arnie married Jeanette Moors. They had three children Gordon, Laurelle, and Bret. As soon as he could afford to he obtained a half section of land and began farming himself. He continued to work both on and off the farm until he retired and moved to Tisdale. Many of his farming years and endeavors were undertaken with his brother-in-law and good friend Casey Moors and his wife Lorraine. During his farming career Arnie fitted in 25 years of work for Saskatchewan Crop Insurance Corp as a field adjuster. When he wasn't working on the farm or for Crop Insurance he enjoyed woodworking, playing cards, old time dancing and square dancing. In August of 2023 he moved to Newmarket Manor where he passed away. A celebration of Arnie's life will be held at a later date. Barron's Funeral Chapel and Crematorium is handling arrangements. In lieu of flowers the family requests that donations be made In Arnie's name to the Jim Pattison Children's Hospital Foundation or the Northeast SPCA. May he rest in Peace.
